Says It Is Not Responsible for Miss Stone's Capture.

DIPLOMATIC NOTE

The Bulgarian Territory Captors Are Not Punished.

END OF THE AFFAIR

(Special A. D. Dispatch.) Constantinople, July 23.—The Turkish government has repudiated the kidnapping of Miss Ellen Stone by Bulgarian bandits. They claim that while Miss Stone was kidnapped on Turkish soil the ransom and release was effected upon outside territory and they are not responsible.

Not Punished. The Turkish government received an answer from Tewfik Pasha, the governor of the Bulgarian province in which the crime was committed that nothing had been done towards their punishment. He admits that the crime was committed upon Turkish soil but that the perpetrators were foreigners and not amenable to the law of Turkey.

Answer Made. The foregoing official answer was officially made to Minister Lelshman, who has taken the matter up with the Turkish government. This will end the present diplomatic treatment of the subject and Secretary Hay will have to make further instructions and demands before it is again taken up.

TIN WORKERS AGREE TO BIG REDUCTION

Cut in Wages Will Enable Acceptance of Orders for 1,500,000 Boxes of of Plate.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 23.—Theodore Shaffer, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers, said that a majority of the judges have voted for the 25 per cent wage reduction proposed by the American Tin Plate company. At the conference with the officers of the association in New York some time ago the company said that if the men accepted a reduction sufficient to enable it to compete with foreign tinmakers many smaller mills of the company would be operated steadily, and that the company could secure orders for 1,500,000 boxes of tin plate that now go to Wales. The Standard Oil Company is a large importer of tin plate, on which it secures a rebate of duty when the tin is exported in the form of packages for oil. The Standard is willing to buy from the American Tin Plate company at $1.15 less than present domestic prices.

LOSE THEIR PLACES AND MAKE THREATS

Discharged Attendants at Kankakee Asylum Say They Will Make Things Warm.

Kankakee, Ill., July 23.—James Hill, Harvey Sprague and J. C. McKeeve, discharged attendants of Kankakee insane hospital, threaten to make things warm for the authorities of that institution by telling what they know. They make no specific charges. Mr. Hill left for Chicago saying that he intended to bring the matter before the state board of charities.

For weeks hospital officials have been unable to bring to punishment suspected thieves of clothing belonging to patients. Saturday a relative brought two suits of underclothing to a patient. The following morning the garments were gone. Night Watchman Sprague was in charge of the ward. His room and other rooms belonging to employees were searched, but the missing clothing was not found. Sprague was discharged. James Hill, J. C. McKeeve and thirty other employees signed a petition for Sprague's reinstatement. Hill and McKeeve were then discharged.

Len Small, president of the hospital trustees, said that Hill and McKeeve were not discharged because they circulated the petition, but because they had boasted that their positions were secured to them through influence. McKeeve was ordered off the grounds by Trustee Small. He left threatening to expose certain things that had been "covered up." The trustee told him to go ahead and expose.

Might Have Done Worse. A white cannibal king is reported to have just died in the Marquesas islands. He was a Boston lad shipwrecked on that coast and should have known better. However, we should speak no ill of the dead; besides, he never owned stock in South Carolina cotton mills, where babies wear their lives out to earn big dividends.

King Edward's Limit. It is said that Emperor William advised his royal uncle to be a king in fact as well as in name. If Edward were to attempt to follow that advice it would take more doctors than he has at present to bring him around. ## KING WILL NEVER BE WELL AGAIN

Court Officials Authority for Statement That He Will Be an Invalid.

IS TO BE CROWNED

Few People Will Attend, Other Than Those Necessary to Ceremony.

WILL BE NO EMBASSIES

(Special By Scripps-McIntee.) London, July 23.—A high court official who has seen the King for the first time since his illness is authority for the following statement: "With the utmost care and precaution His Majesty will be able to get through the coronation services though it is likely that he will not go to London until the night before the coronation and will afterwards immediately return to Cowes."

Will Be An Invalid. "The reason for the hastening of the coronation is that the King's physicians say that he will always be an invalid and that he will never be so well again."

A Second Operation. It has been found that the first operation, while successful is not all that is necessary and that a second one must be made in order to even insure his life, if not absolute recovery. The second operation will be performed late in the fall when he has recovered from the shock of the present one.

Small Attendance. It is now agreed in London that the attendance at the coronation will be small and that few of the foreign powers will be represented. The Duke of Norfolk has been forced to write personal letters to enough persons of note to be present to even make a decent showing of the English nobility and royal families of Europe.

No Embassies. There will be no foreign embassies in attendance and their absence will be especially noted.

King Improves. King Edward was brought on to the deck of the royal yacht this morning and remained above board for some hours. He is still very weak but looks better than in some days past.

STOP THE TUNNEL UNDER HUDSON

New York Aldermen Reject the Plans Made by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

New York, July 23.—(Special.)—The proposed tunnel franchise for the Pennsylvania railroad company, which has been approved by the board of rapid transit commissioners, was rejected today by the board of aldermen by a vote of 56 to 10. This action of the board was in accordance with the report of the committee on railroads, which raised the objection to the proposed contract between the railroad company and the rapid transit commissioner because it does not provide for pipe galleries in the tunnel for the use of the city, because no time limit is fixed on the construction; and because there is no provision for the employment of union labor at the prevailing rate of wages.

The action of the aldermen kills the contract made between the Pennsylvania railroad company and the Rapid Transit company. The special act passed by the legislature last spring was designed to empower the commission to grant a perpetual franchise to the Pennsylvania company, providing that the aldermen should have the right to approve or reject the contract, but that they should not have the right to modify it in any way. The decision of the aldermen is final, and, according to Controller Groat and Albert B. Boardman, one of the counsel to the rapid transit commission, the only thing left for the Pennsylvania company is to renew its application, if it still wishes to go ahead with its project, on terms likely to be accepted by the board of aldermen, and it will be necessary for an entirely new contract to be drawn.

Whether or not the Pennsylvania company will agree to meet the objections raised remains to be seen.

WILL OPEN ALL MINES OR NONE

Decision Reached by Operators in Session in New York.

MITCHELL LEADER

Will Now Take Control of the Battle in the East.

FIGHT TO THE FINISH

(Special By Scripps-McIntee.) New York, July 23.—A number of the presidents of the anthracite coal companies held a session in the city last night and have authorized the statement that no efforts will be made to resume work at any fixed date.

Open All or None. They also gave out the statement that when the operators decided to open again they would open all in a district, not a few, and then fight it out on those lines. They also decided that they had taken advantage of the strike to raise the price of coal.

Mitchell Commands. The national officers attach importance to the resolution reported by the committee appointed by the convention to draw up an expression in regard to the recent mine horrors in which so many of the men lost their lives. In this resolution attention is called to the fact that in several instances the men have been sent back to work in mines before the bodies of their friends had been removed.

Strike Fund Grows Rapidly. Several large and small contributions for the strike fund have been received. District No. 13 (Iowa) sent $5,000; the Holtermakers and Iron Shipbuilders' National union, $546; local union of mine workers of Glen Carbon, Ill., $500; local union of Jackson Hill, Ind., $200, and district No. 3, Danville, Ill., $100.

Secretary Wilson says he is not looking for any large returns from the appeal to the public for several days, though several small personal contributions have been made.

CLAIM MADE AGAINST TRUSTS

A Statement That They Have Recently Encroached on the Tariff.

Washington, D. C., July 23.—(Special.)—"Trusts have been built up gradually," said Representative Livingston, "and I have no doubt that in the earlier days of the tariff agitation our politicians on both sides were honest in their efforts to build up the country and better the condition of the masses of the people by a protective tariff, and they are the ones that have been built up, until they threaten if indeed they do not actually control the government."

"I make a decided distinction between tariff revision in order to destroy trusts and a general tariff revision to accomplish the democratic idea of free trade. Outside of the question of taking the protection off the articles of the combines, I would favor a general revision of the tariff to make it bear evenly upon all industries and sections of the country; make it a tariff simply and solely for revenue only, but ample to support the government."

"I am against a tariff for protection. Such a revision of the tariff as this should be made for the benefit of the masses of the people. Then I would handle the trusts and combines as I have indicated by abolishing all duty on the imported raw material and levying an import tax on all manufactured articles sent out of the country by the trusts."

"I do not see that the foreign powers under the lead of the Czar of Russia, can do anything else but erect tariff barriers against the encroachments of foreign trusts. Our own combines and trusts are getting into these foreign markets, and they are enabled to sell low enough to do this by the enormous profits they make on the goods they sell in this country. I made the prediction two years ago that the time would come when these countries would protect themselves, against this thing."

LOCAL LINEMEN ON A STRIKE

Have No Grievance with Janesville Manager, But Go Out.

ORDERS BY UNION

Men Stop Work This Morning on Word from Milwaukee.

OUT IN SYMPATHY

Two of the three men employed by the local Wisconsin Telephone company have gone out on a sympathetic strike with the striking linemen over the state. They are not union men because there is no local chapter in this place of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, but they are thoroughly in sympathy with the union men. They have no grievance against the Janesville company but are simply going into the strike to aid the men over the state.

Sympathetic Strike. When James Fraser and Edward Barron, trouble men of the local Wisconsin Telephone company went to the office this morning they informed Manager Slater that they had received orders from the central union to stop work and they felt that it was their duty to do so, although they had no fault to find on their own account. As one of them expressed it he "wasn't going to have any scabbing in his."

Not Union Men. From the beginning these men have been thoroughly in sympathy with the union men in their cause and would be union men themselves if there were a chapter in this place. With only three men in the employ of the Wisconsin company and only a few more with the Rock County company, there are not enough to organize a chapter in the city.

Union Sends Order. Tuesday afternoon there came a telegram from the Milwaukee central chapter of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers giving warning to the sympathizing workmen here to stand in readiness to strike when the next word should come. Later in the evening a special delivery letter was received giving the order to cease work and these instructions were acted upon this morning.

No Fault to Find. There is no feeling among the men in this city of dissatisfaction with their present situation. Ed. Barron, in talking of the matter, said that he "couldn't have a better boss; he was never better satisfied in his life." The men are in sympathy with Mr. Slater's feeling in regard to the matter with one exception.

OATS REACH 67 CENTS ON CHICAGO BOARD

Prices Show a Range of 6 1/2 Points and Move Up Readily on Very Limited Bidding.

Chicago, July 23.—There is an unusual situation in July oats. With a very light trade possibly 100,000 bu., prices had a range of 6 1/2c. They opened 2 1/2c lower, at the inside. There was a trade in new July at 60 1/2c. Then prices moved up on limited bidding, the next trade being 65c, and later touched 67c. At the last they were 66c, a gain of 3c. The top price was the same as Monday's. Old style sold from 48 1/2c to 51 1/2c, and closed there, or 1/2c better than the previous day. The feature, aside from the fluctuations, was the difficulty in trading, showing the market to be thoroughly congested. There is no telling where the price might have gone had there been any attempt to buy on a large scale, or what might have happened had the Patten outfit been heavy sellers. They were not visible in the market until the price touched 65c, when a few trades were made, and later at 66 1/2c they had oats to sell. The situation is a remarkable one. There are plenty of oats back in the country, but they cannot be moved to market this month, and will not pass grade here, many having been damaged by the recent rains. This is what is helping the bull interests. There is said to be a fair-sized short interest outstanding, but it is difficult to locate.

Disease Worse Than Battle. The fact that the British losses by deaths from disease during the Boer war were 13,250, compared with 7,793 killed or fatally wounded in battle, shows how much more fatal disease is than shot and shell under the conditions of climate in South Africa. Not even the terrible havoc wrought by the Boers in their ambushes was so fatal as the enervating climate and the perils incident thereto.

French Desertions in China. Some eighty French soldiers are alleged to have deserted to the Chinese during the recent campaign in the far East. Some were made officers in the Chinese army, but returned later to their regiment, and were let off with nominal punishments.

BEGIN SPLENDID SIGNAL SYSTEM

HANDSOME STATION AT SPRING BROOK NEARLY COMPLETED.

TO ERECT NINE SEMAPHORES

Suburban District Continues to Be a Scene of Railroad and Factory Activity.

The highest commendation is due to the C. M. & St. P. R. R. for the grade of work that has been done on the signal tower which has been erected at the McKoy Boulevard crossing and is now having the finishing touches put on it. Where an unsightly box might have been erected, of the cheapest material, care has been taken to make the new structure an ornament to the neighborhood in which it is located.

Handsome Structure.
Instead of a rough ladder leaning against the side of the building of the type that is usually employed, a graceful staircase has been built and the structure crowned with a curved pagoda-style roof. When the painters have finished their work the appearance of the whole will be a decided improvement to the street.

Work to Be Done.
The carpenters expect to complete their work on the signal station within the next two or three days, but there will be a long siege of work ahead before the complete interlocking system can be installed. Nine semaphore posts will be erected; three near the tower, two to the east of the tower and two to the west, and one in each direction away from the runs by the cannery factory. The most distant signals will be located 1,750 feet from the station, and the work of laying the rods by which the semaphore arms are manipulated will occupy considerable time.

Road Bed Raised.
All parts of the work are being done in a most thorough manner. The guide pulleys on which the rods run are set upon blocks of wood fastened to masonry, and are being placed very accurately. Before this part of the work can be completed it will be necessary to raise certain parts of the track and to repair other sections, where there is danger that a heavy rain would throw the guide pulleys out of true. On the switch track the entire road bed is to be raised for some distance.

The Ale Brewery.
The ale brewery under the new co-operative organization is building up its business in rapid style. Tuesday a carload of ale was shipped to the Milwaukee agency of the company, and another large shipment will be made soon. Under the new system, the out of town trade will be entrusted entirely to Mr. Williams' partners and he will devote his time to the Jansville side of the business.

No Bottling Here.
At the Milwaukee branch of the firm the bottling machinery is to be put into the bottling station that has been erected in that city. In the course of a few days, and bottling will be begun there next month. Large advance orders are in the hands of the company before the bottling station has begun operation.

Casks From Schlitz.
A second carload of casks has been received from the Schlitz brewing company to be employed in the brewery here. The Schlitz company has been putting a series of mammoth casks into their Milwaukee brewery and Mr. Williams has secured some of the casks which were formerly used by them.

Cold Storage.
As soon as the plans are ready workmen will begin on the 30 by 50 addition which is to be made to the cold storage rooms. At the same time that the extension is made to the south of the main building the present storage which has never been completed will be built up with stone, surrounding the present wooden lining.

Would Aid Farmers.
It is the hope of the company that a malt house may be erected near the main building at some early date, although it is probable that no such extension would be made until next year. If this project were carried through it would furnish a home market for the grain of the farmers in the surrounding country and would abolish the necessity of shipping the grain.

Business Growing.
The Pearl Button factory has taken on several more hands this week so that the total number of employees at present is about thirty. The concern is now well settled in their Spring Brook quarters and are constantly turning out a greater quantity of their products.

Duck Creek Stone.
Several carloads of stone from the Duck Creek quarry, four miles north of Green Bay, have been unloaded near the Interurban cutting through the Northwestern tracks beyond the Chouteau-Hollister factory. The stone is a limestone that will make a very handsome bridge. The bridge is to be an iron span with stone abutments, having an opening of fourteen feet.

Work to Be Pushed.
Foreman Welsh is pushing the work on the cutting as rapidly as possible. A stone culvert which was already through the embankment at this point will delay their work somewhat in removing it. Masons are at work shaping the stone that is already unloaded and will continue to do so for many weeks to come. The stone to be used, will be unloaded gradually as it is used. There is not sufficient space to accommodate the entire amount necessary if the whole amount were to be unloaded at one time, and there would be nothing gained if that course were pursued. A few carloads will arrive at intervals of a few days until the work is finished.

Miss May Robbins of Waukegan is visiting friends in this city.

TOO WET FOR CAMPERS

Rain Sends a Disgusted Party Home From Newville.
Albert Schell and family, Charles F. Achterberg and family and Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Jackson who have been in camp at Newville have become disgusted with the weather and returned to the comfort of their own homes. For three days and nights during the past week it rained almost continuously and last Sunday the campers actually suffered with the cold. The gasoline stove on which they did their cooking was carried into one of the living tents and the members huddled up in wraps huddled around this meager fire all day.

RAIN SPOILS A UNIQUE MATCH

FEW GOLFERS DARE PLUVIOUS

Charles Schaller the Winner of Contest, by a Score of 17.

The rain yesterday afternoon interfered greatly with the success of the unique match at the Sinsissippi club grounds. Quite a number that would have entered in the match were frightened away by the threatening weather.

However, a few of the old timers who could not be frightened away by the weather went over the course and turned in scores. Charles Achterberg was first with a score of 17 and Charles Schaller and F. J. Baker tied for second on 20.

A Novel Match.
The match consisted in playing a ball the length of one of the links over numerous obstructions and through barrels back to the home green where the ball had to be hoisted into a receptacle instead of into a hole. Several of the players had a good score up to the time they began trying to put the ball into the receptacle. Here the number of their strokes increased so rapidly that they were soon out of the game.

There would have been quite an entry list and much fun would have resulted had the rain held off until evening.

The committee has not yet fully decided what is necessary in this line.

HANG RICH BOYS
IN MISSISSIPPI

Relatives' Threat to Rescue
the Murderers Not Made Good.

SISTER OFFERS POISON TO ONE

Ashley Cocke Refuses to Commit Suicide, but Dies on Gallows Cursing the People—He Leaves Money for Avengers.

Greenville, Miss., July 23.—Cursing the people of Greenville, Ashley Cocke, murderer, was hanged here. With him, but silently, Tom Lauderdale died. The threats of aristocratic relatives to shoot Cocke on the gallows rather than have the family name disgraced by a hanging failed to materialize. Neither was there any effort to take the condemned men away from the sheriff.

Fund for Slayers of Prosecutors. Cocke belonged to one of the wealthiest and most important families in the state, and Lauderdale's family connections are prominent. Men said money and family influence would save Cocke, but he died boasting he would be in hell in a few minutes. He said those who had planned his murder would be killed and that $11,000 had been deposited in bank, $1,000 of which would be paid for the death of each of the eleven men who prosecuted him.

Over 6,000 persons saw the men mount the scaffold. Cocke died cursing everybody. Lauderdale held his head high for the cap, thanked those about him, and dropped with Cocke to death. Both necks were broken.

Sister Offers Him Poison. Cocke's mother and sister waited in the sheriff's office for the body. Mrs. Cocke said:

"They have murdered my boy. They have killed my son." She predicted great trouble for Gov. Longino and the people of Washington county. Mrs. Carrington of Memphis was with her. She is a sister to Cocke. To those about her she said:

"My brother was innocent. I offered him poison, but he threw it aside. I told him men would come and take him out of jail if he would go; he refused to do this; he had this chance for release, but spurned it."

Story of the Crime. The crime for which Cocke and Lauderdale paid the death penalty was committed in a Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad train Dec. 30, 1901, near Elizabeth. Cocke, Lauderdale, Will Blackburn and G. M. Phipps boarded the train to return to their homes at Shelby. G. M. Wray, an engineer, was a passenger. Cocke and his companions were under the influence of liquor. Phipps fell against Wray, who was asleep. Wray asked Phipps what he meant, and the reply came from Cocke that it meant that he (Wray) must leave the coach. Wray told the men that it was all right, and that he would leave the coach. As Wray started to walk out Blackburn said to Cocke: "What shall we do with that fellow? He says that he has done nothing, but is willing to apologize."

Riddled with Bullets. "I vote to kill him," replied Cocke. Cocke, Lauderdale and Blackburn began shooting and Wray was riddled with bullets.

Cocke and Lauderdale were tried together, convicted and sentenced to be hanged March 21, 1902. An appeal was taken, which staid the execution. The supreme court upheld the decision of the lower court and fixed yesterday as the day for execution. Gov. Longino refusing to interfere, Blackburn was given a life sentence, his previous character having been proven exceptionally good.

THE OUTLOOK

For a woman's happiness in the married state depends less, as a rule, upon the man she is to marry than upon her own health. The woman who enters upon marriage, suffering from womanly weakness, is "heaping up trouble against the day of trouble."

Weak woman are made strong and sick women are made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the one reliable regulator. It dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It nourishes the nerves and invigorates the entire womanly organism. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives strength to nursing mothers.

"I suffered for twelve years with female trouble," writes Mrs. Milton Grimes, of Adair, Adair Co., Iowa, "which brought on other diseases—heart trouble, Bright's disease, nervousness, and at times would be nearly paralyzed. Had neuritis of stomach. I can freely say I was a wreck. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets, have cured me. I can work with comfort now, but before I would be tired all the time and have a dizzy headache, and my nerves would be all unstrung so I could not sleep. Now I can sleep and do a big day's work, something I had not done for over eleven years before."

MOODY STIRS UP
NAVY DEPARTMENT

Will Put Naval Constructors
in Charge of All Work at Shipyards.

CUTS OFF DUTY ON SHORE

Will Send Many Line Officers Back to Sea—Admirals O'Neill and Bradford Oppose the Plan—Say Civilians Cannot Do the Work.

Washington, July 23.—Secretary Moody's ideas in regard to the employment of the naval commissioned personnel, which has been the foremost topic of interest during his twelve weeks of experience as the head of the department, crystallized in a radical step.

There was a lively time in Mr. Moody's private office prior to and following an announcement by him to some of his bureau chiefs that he had determined to try the experiment of putting naval constructors in entire charge not only of the work of inspecting the construction of war vessels, but also of inspecting ordnance and equipment material for them.

This will necessitate the detachment of the ordnance and equipment inspectors, who are line officers of the navy, and ordering them to sea. Rear Admiral O'Neill, chief of the ordnance bureau, and Rear Admiral Bradford, chief of the equipment bureau, ranged themselves in determined opposition to the secretary's scheme. In the course of the spirited argument which this opposition produced much of the old-time friction between the naval bureaus came to the surface.

Mr. Moody recently called for reports from all officers on shore duty as to what they were doing, and in a circular letter to them he asked a number of questions tending to indicate a belief on his part that there were too many officers ashore.

Views of Naval Officers.

Generally speaking, the responses of the officers on shore duty indicated that only men of naval training could do the work to which they were assigned, and that some officers on shore had about all they could attend to. Some of the officers admitted that their duties could be performed by civilians, but they asserted that such civilians must be men of the highest professional attainments, who would demand salaries far in excess of the pay of naval officers.

Mr. Moody was apparently impressed with these answers, but while they served to show that the only rational solution of the difficulty was to get from congress an increase in the commissioned personnel, he was still confronted by the immediate need of more officers for ships in commission.

It was for the purpose of talking over these reports and getting the views of bureau chiefs as to a plan he had in mind for reducing the number of officers on shore duty that Mr. Moody summoned Rear Admirals O'Neill and Bradford and Rear Admiral Taylor, the chief of the bureau of navigation. Later on Rear Admiral Bowles, the chief naval constructor, was called in.

At the outset Mr. Moody explained the difficulties that beset the service in not having enough officers for sea duty. He admitted that if congress did not make better provision for immediate needs than was secured by the increase of the corps of millitamen at the naval academy by ninety-five, it would be necessary to ask congress not to authorize the construction of any more vessels.

Admirals Oppose the Plan. In proposing a partial solution of the present difficulty Mr. Moody indicated that he had not wholly abandoned his original idea that the work performed by some officers on shore duty could be consolidated with the work of other officers ashore, and thus secure the services of the extra ones for sea details.

His plan was to try the experiment of placing ordnance and equipment inspection at the Bath Iron works under the direction of the naval constructor there, and if it succeeded to apply the practice generally, thus permitting the ordnance and equipment officers at shipyards and other places to go to sea.

Admirals O'Neill and Bradford opposed Mr. Moody's plan, strenuously. They said in effect that it was useless to try to fill the existing vacancies at Washington by any such plan. The only way this could be done, they held, was to get congress to increase the personnel. In the course of the discussion complaint was made that Rear Admiral Taylor, who sided with Mr. Moody, had been detaching ordnance and equipment officers from shore duty and sending them to sea without previously notifying the ordnance and equipment bureaus.

Secretary Will Make Trial.

The upshot of the discussion was that Secretary Moody decided to try the experiment at the Bath Iron works. If, in his opinion, the constructor there, after a careful trial, can do the work of two additional officers, then all the equipment and ordnance inspectors at shipyards where naval vessels are being built will be sent to sea.

the Chicago up there and try and see how near he can come to some of those reefs that have been the mariners' dread for centuries. Then, too, it would make an excellent coaling station and would be a good guard for all approaches for the North Pole. Yes, the United States ought to buy it.

It has begun to dawn upon the minds of the Democrats at large, that "I am a Democrat" is not dead. That he is as lively as a six year corpse, can be under the existing circumstances. But then, Dave, and the proverbial snow-balls are alike. "They neither of them have a chance on earth."

An Illinois woman shot and killed her brother-in-law and her husband because they came home late and tried to break in the door with a fence rail. The woman claimed she thought they were burglars. Some times it is better to sleep on a fence rail than use it for a latch key, even if it is your own home.

The cadets of Christ church have started to raise a fund for the purchase of new uniforms, that they may in truth be real soldiers. The aspiring soldier boys will sell you a magazine for 10 cents and say "thank you" in a way that makes you pleased to have expended the money, whether you want the magazine or not. But you do want it, for it's good.

Many of the fledglings and office soldiers who can appear well on dress parade and badly in command of a detachment of troops in an enemy's country have seen fit to criticize General Smith. Some day they may have a chance to do as Smith had to do to preserve his life and the lives of his men, then we shall see what we do see.

A Brooklyn man who was taunted and told that he did not dare kill a fly promptly shot and killed the taunter. Doubtless he thought he had proven that he did have courage to kill the fly but what if there were no flies on the man? What then?

At the county institute yesterday, one of the teachers asked a pertinent question. "Why does not Mr. Gettle answer those charges brought against him that he aided in ousting Mr. Harvey that the campaign fund might be increased?" Echo answers!

Wisconsin Democracy stock is looking up. Col. "Bill" Vilas has returned to the fold and at once wants to run it all. Well, "Bill" managed the party pretty well, while he had charge before and may be he would be better than Bird or Regan or Rose or Rogers. That is, perhaps.

From the length and breadth of this country the newspapers have taken up the cause of Senator Spooner and the fallacy of allowing him to retire from the able work he is doing.

PRESS COMMENT.

Tomah Monitor: Wisconsin will have a Democratic governor next term.

Delavan Enterprise: There's nothing to do but stand up and take our medicine.

Fond du Lac Reporter: A Good resolutions are about the only burlesque treasures men have.

Milwaukee Free Press: Hello! Will you please send up half a pound of anthracite coal?

Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin: At this rate, there may be opportunity in many sections to do harvest work with waterpower.

Marquette Eagle: The golf enthusiasts do not see how some people can take an interest in so tame a sport as politics.

Neillsville Monitor: Wisconsin will the state now have to decide between Democracy and the Stevens primary election law. The flag is up and the race is on.

Chicago Inter-Ocean: The pursuit of Tracy has been abandoned, which fact makes the business of deputy sheriff in Oregon much more agreeable than it has been lately.

Racine Journal: Senator Whitehead made a conspicuous and manly fight, and today stands high in the estimation of Wisconsin people. His record is clear as it is unassailable.

Chicago-Record Herald: William Jennings Bryan says there will be

"harmony in two groups" of the democratic party during the next campaign. Isn't Mr. Bryan rather conservative in his estimate of the number of groups?

Milwaukee Daily News: While Gov. La Follette has a deep and abiding hatred of the machine in politics, he is not averse to having a lot of loyal supporters that will stand by him and vote in convention as directed.

Council Bluffs Nonpareil: Sioux City needs a few missionaries. In a popular vote on the ten greatest men who ever lived, the Sioux City Journal found that William Shakespeare and Julius Caesar stood first in the list while Jesus Christ failed to receive more than three or four votes.

Grant County Witness: While this paper has openly opposed the renomination of the governor, believing it to be unwise, we gracefully submit to the majority and are willing to place ourselves on record as opposing any movement that tends to bolt the governor at the polls. We believe majorities should rule and that republicans should give him their undivided support at the polls, trusting no legislation will be passed that will be a disappointment to the people.

State Journal: The defeat of State Superintendent Harvey is a savage blow at the progressive educational policies, especially in behalf of the county schools which he has set on foot. Senator Stout whose life is given to education, sought to check the opposition, but dictation is a difficult force to reason with. We do not know the new man Cary but it was given out that he was "a strong La Follette man"—and so another river is properly placed to advance that gentleman's ambitions.

Green Bay Gazette: A New York court holds that a person's photograph is public property and that anyone so disposed has a right to use it in advertising devices or otherwise. It does not seem just, but as it appears to be the law it must be. Why could not a person overcome this by getting his face copyrighted the same as the author does his articles or a composer the title page of his music.

SPOONER COMMENT.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The utter unfairness and unreasonableness of the proposition is apparent when once analyzed. It simply says that Senator Spooner must give evidence of his Republicanism by accepting the actions and declarations of the state convention. As well might the Massachusetts convention ask the venerable Senator Hoar to say that he was a Republican or an Iowa convention ask Senator William B. Allison to publicly state whether or not, after his more than thirty years of continuous service, he is in accord with the party that he has helped make. Senator Spooner is the peer of Anson and Hoar, and is the close and confidential adviser of the President. He is the recognized authority in the United States Senate today on questions of constitutional law, and not a single measure of importance has been passed by the present congress without first having his sanction and support. Well may the Republicans of other states stand amazed at the action of the Wisconsin convention in thus discrediting its distinguished senator, and well may the Republicans of this state hang their heads in shame and confusion. It will take Wisconsin Republicans many years to overcome the injury wrought by this unfortunate error, committed under the direction of indiscreet leadership.

Waterloo Democrat: "We endorse Spooner and his political acts, providing Spooner will endorse all our 'isms' and swallow our platform entire coming to us and on his bended knees acknowledging that 'we' are the whole thing, and take back all he said about not desiring re-election." Is about the manner in which Spooner was endorsed by the state convention. If Spooner will lay aside his own personality and acknowledge LaFollette as the "king bee," and all his isms as the correct standard of Republicanism in Wisconsin, then, and not until then, will Spooner be considered as a fit representative of the Wisconsin Republicans in the United States senate. This will be a bitter pill for Spooner, and his followers, the stalwarts, to swallow, but they will have to take the soup handed out to them by LaFollette or step down and out. Pretty hard lines.

Appleton Post: What is the further duty of Republicans whose amazement and indignation have been aroused because any conditions should have been prescribed for Senator Spooner's re-election? In our opinion, it would be the height of unwisdom for them, Sampson-like, to pull down the splendid Republican temple in his commonwealth. To do so would, for one thing, deprive them of the opportunity of compassing what they now most desire in the re-election of Senator Spooner and, for another, it would make an end of the usefulness of the party in this state. It therefore behooves them to support the ticket nominated yesterday from top to bottom as a necessary means to otherwise most desirable ends.

Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin: Racine, which sent a LaFollette delegation to Madison, spoke on Saturday in a loud voice for Spooner. There is no doubt whatever as to whom the Republicans of Wisconsin want to represent them in the United States Senate.

Portage Register: Mr. Spooner is stronger than partisan politics; he has never mixed up in politics nor been a candidate (except once, and then at a sacrifice to himself, that few men would have consented to;) he is not a candidate now for any office, nor will he be "conscripted." Wisconsin must conscript his services and the next legislature will be composed of men who will conscript his services.

Eau Claire Leader: Senator Spooner is one of the ablest and most sagacious statesmen of the age and his endorsement should have been hearty and unanimous. His virtues should have been proclaimed aloud. The action of the convention should have been broad and liberal as the casing air. Not cabined, cribbed, confined a prey to saucy doubts and fears.

Oshkosh Northwestern: There is an extreme degree of interest in this state just at the present time to know whether Senator Spooner will decide to make any reply to the endorsement of the Republican state platform plank endorsing him for re-election, but including a clause which practically challenges his Republicanism.

Beloit Free Press: The Republican party is not a state organization, but a national one. Its principles, when paramount in the national government, affect the state, while the local issues of the party in a state in no wise affect or change the principles of the national organization.

Neenah Times: Spooner was "slaughtered" in the house of his friends, or those who should have been his friends. When Gov. LaFollette turned down Hon. John C. Spooner, he made the mistake of his lifetime.

Wisconsin State Journal: Whether Spooner approves the platform really has nothing to do with it. Bob, Jerre and "Herb" respectfully invite the senator, not to a joint debate, but to a slaughter house.

Racine Journal: The blow at Senator Spooner is severely felt by many prominent Republicans in national life. The regret is universal and Wisconsin may well hang her head.

BET SUGAR PROSPECTS GOOD

JANESVILLE CROP PROMISES BETTER THAN EXPECTED.

NOT AFFECTED BY THE RAIN

Five Thousand Acres Are Needed to Insure a Factory in This City.

Reports from the farmers in this vicinity who have sugar beets under cultivation, are encouraging, and point toward success in that industry if it should be extensively taken up in this city. Nothing further has been done toward the location of a beet sugar factory in this city by the Wisconsin Sugar Co. and it does not seem probable that any further steps will be taken in that direction before the close of this season, when it will be easier to tell the attitude of the farmers toward such a project.

Forty Acres of Beets. Between thirty-five and forty acres of beets have been planted by farmers near this city as an experiment to test the adaptability of this region for the raising of the sugar beet. Thus far the crop seems to be doing well and the rain has had less of an injurious effect on the beets than on many other products. As far as can be told at the present time there seems to be no danger of a loss on the present season's planting and although the success of the local growers may not be as great as that of planters in other sections of the state, the farmers will probably do very well on their experiment.

Will Ship Crop. The crop when it is harvested will be shipped to the central factory of the Wisconsin Sugar Company at Menominee Falls. The same course will be taken in many other localities where test crops have been planted to determine the advisability of going into the industry more extensively.

4,000 Acres Needed. There is more or less speculation as to the ultimate course that will be pursued in regard to the erection of a sugar refinery in this city. Granting that the crop of this year is wholly up to the standard, then the next step will be to get the farmers interested in the work to a sufficient extent to plant between three and four thousand acres of beets. It is regarded by some of those in this city who are the most interested in the success of the plan, as doubtful whether there are those in this city who are willing to devote the necessary time to arousing enthusiasm in the plan.

Who Will Canvass? For one or two individuals in the city to give time enough to see to it that the required amount of planted land should be guaranteed, would be asking a good deal of self-sacrifice to the cause. On the other hand it is doubtful whether the company would care to go to the trouble, when they have so many branches of their concern, of making a local canvass of the situation. The exact situation in regard to this question can be better determined when the profit and loss of the season has been figured up.

Oconomowoc Loses. The report has come by a Janesville man who was in Oconomowoc on Tuesday that the raisers of sugar beets in that city have calculated that after considering the rent paid for land, the price of cultivating and harvesting, and all other items, the loss on the crop of last year amounted to about ten dollars an acre. Over one hundred acres were devoted to beet raising in that city.

Have Sent Circular. The Wisconsin Sugar company has sent a circular letter to one of the Janesville men who is especially interested in the success of the industry, and the same letter has been sent throughout the state to those who are interested in the beet sugar industry, calling attention to the opportunity in this state for the development of sugar beet culture.

Has Been Successful. Notice is called in the letter to the successful experiments of Prof. W. A. Henry, director of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station, and to the success of the raising of sugar beets in the vicinity of Menominee Falls.

Value of Sugar. The circular also states the amount of the sugar consumed in the state of Wisconsin annually as worth $7,000,000. To produce this sugar twenty factories would be required each of which would buy about $300,000 worth of sugar beets from the farmers.

Receive Contract. A telegram was received this morning from James Rowson & Sons, city hall contractors, that they had just been awarded the contract for the erection of two large state buildings at Iowa City. The buildings are to be of stone and will be used by the medical department of the state university. It is an important contract and it speaks well for Mr. Rowson that he secured it.

Plenic Held. A special meeting of Olive Branch No. 36, A. O. U. W. held a special meeting last evening in regard to the holding of their annual picnic at Lake Geneva. A committee of five consisting of E. F. Shoemaker, J. M. Thayer, Bernard Dunwiddie, John Heller and George Robinson were appointed to make arrangements for the excursion.

States Without Debt. There are three states which have no debt Iowa, Nebraska and Illinois. There are three others which have almost no debt—California, Montana and Nevada.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

A Warning. When a man starts a conversation by saying he's a friend of yours, look out for some impertinent remarks.—Philadelphia Record.

WILL TELL TIME NIGHT AND DAY

CITY CLOCK HAS BEGUN LONG TERM OF SERVICE

AND IT WILL NEVER STRIKE

Dials Are to be Illuminated by Electricity at Night—Mechanism is Intricate

At twenty-seven minutes past eleven this morning, the city hall clock started on its endless journey.

W. J. Buckley, of Chicago, representing the Seth Thomas Clock Co., of Thomastown, Ct., had completed his work of setting up the clock and connecting the horizontal rods that connect the hands with the clock mechanism inside the tower.

The mechanism worked smoothly and at 12 o'clock when Assistant Chief Engineer Osgood struck the hour at the West side fire station bell the hands were on the dot.

Tower Completed. The house around the clock inside the tower was completed with the exception of putting on the second layer of boards on the roof, which was done this afternoon.

The house answers the purpose of a case and protects the machinery from dust and dirt. The clock with its standard is about six feet high and is built to stand long service. Most of the cog wheels and bearings are of brass and are substantially made.

The pendulum rod is four feet long and has an iron ball weighing 150 pounds for a weight. Each swing of the pendulum represents a second.

On the side of the mechanism inside the clock house there is a clock dial showing the hours and minutes and just above it a smaller dial giving the seconds.

The clock is also fitted with a patent hand setting device, so that if it is out of the way, the hands on all four dials can be set at the same time by simply turning a key.

The running weight of the clock weighs 300 pounds and furnishes the power for running the mechanism. The clock has to be wound but once in eight days to keep it in motion.

The four dials are each six feet in diameter, made of 3/4 ground glass and will stand against any kind of weather. The hands are perfectly balanced and will travel around the clock face without any friction.

At night the dials will be lighted by four sixteen candle power electric lights, hung behind each dial, which will light them up so that the time at night can be easily told.

City Treasurer James A. Fathers will have charge of the clock and will attend to the winding and oiling of the same. The only thing lacking about the clock is the striker, so the time can be told by people not in sight of the dials. Many claim this is not necessary, but it would be a big improvement.

A photographer from Milwaukee, spent some time at the city hall yesterday and took a picture of a group of the workmen and also took a picture of the hall itself. He also took pictures of the Carnegie library, the St. Paul station and several of the public buildings.

NEWS OF THE CITY IN BRIEF.

Water Main Connected: The new high street water main was yesterday connected with the main at the corner of High and West Milwaukee.

Inspect Streets: The street assessment committee were out yesterday afternoon looking over Wall, High, Franklin, Marion and Harrison streets which are to be improved by macadamizing. They will probably recommend at the next meeting of the council that the work be done.

Advance Car Here: The advance car for the Forepaugh-Sells show was in the city Tuesday and will soon have the billboards of the surrounding town covered with lithographs.

Bad Storm: The storm yesterday afternoon was quite severe in the vicinity of Milton and Johnston. It was reported in some localities but was not severe.

Sewer Question Not Settled: The St. Paul representatives and the aldermen from the First ward have not yet settled the sewer question. It will probably end in the company building its own sewer to the river in accordance with the permit granted them some time ago.

Carload of Ties Here: A carload of ties has arrived in the city for the use of the street railway company. They will be employed in mending various portions of the track, especially that on Milton avenue where the best opportunity for such work on this street is completed.

Will Repave Streets: East Milwaukee street from the bridge to Main street will be repaved by the property owners. The work will be commenced as soon as the brick for the paving arrives. The work will be completed in this way much sooner than if the city did it as there will be no bother about advertising for bids.

Grading Done: The Hayes Bros. have accomplished a considerable piece of grading in leveling the space they have near the Choate-Hollister Works where the Interurban crosses the table factory's switch spurs. It will be some time before the work will be completed and it will be possible to put the men and teams again on the work at the cement post factory.

Removing Poles: A number of the poles of the Postal Telegraph company on McKee boulevard are being moved to allow the cars of the Interurban line to have more space. The Interurban in part is covering the same ground controlled by the Postal's right of way, and the poles of the telegraph company are so close to the electric car company's track that it would be impossible for a car to pass. In order to avoid this difficulty the poles are being moved.

MERCHANTS MAY DECLARE BOYCOTT

IF CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN CO. REMOVES CREWS.

BUSINESS MEN ARE AROUSED

If Movement Is Started, There Are Who Stand Ready to Join It.

Present indications are that unless the order of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co. transferring the crews from this city to North Fond du Lac is rescinded, a boycott will be declared on the road by many of the merchants of the city. The business men feel very intensely about the matter and while the sentiment has not yet crystallized, it is almost absolutely certain that some movement will be started in the near future.

Grocers Will Act. It is a safe prediction that the Grocers' association will declare a boycott just as they did some time ago when the Northwestern started to transfer the crews.

The boycott was continued until the railroad officials went to the grocery men and assured them that they did not intend to remove their employees from Janesville.

Other Merchants Indignant. Other business men say that if the grocery men take any such action they will join it as an expression, at least, of their resentment at the company's order. Some of the merchants' feel that the Business Men's association should take hold of the matter and call a general meeting for protest.

The business men stand ready to aid the railroad employees in their efforts to remain in Janesville. It is generally conceded that their removal means an incalculable loss to the city.

Thelma. Marie Corelli's novel and great tale, comes to the Myers Grand in the shape of one of the most successful dramas of the day. For both public and press praise, it stands unrivaled, and this alone is an absolute guarantee of its merit and an indication of the splendid treat in store for our theatergoers. For scenic effect and magnificence of stage settings, "Thelma" under the management of Aiden Benedict, has never been equaled in this city. A good cast is required to produce it and this Mr. Benedict has.

A Runaway. A pair of horses attached to a top buggy made a wicked run down Academy street about one o'clock today. The man held onto them and succeeded in stopping them before any damage was done.

Wainscoting Here. The marble wainscoting for the rotunda of the new city hall is being placed in position today. The mosaic work on the floor of the rotunda is all completed and ready for the iron stairway to be placed in position.

E. M. Ladd, of Edgerton was in the city yesterday on legal business.

Morgan's Men Riding Home

A FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY WAR STORY

July 17-22, 1862

[Copyright, 1902, by G. L. Kilmier.]

MORGAN, the raider, with his whole band of rough riders, was in the heart of Kentucky the middle of July, 1862. His safety lay in stampeding the Federal forces in the region where he rode. The headquarters of the enemy were at Louisville, on the Ohio. Cincinnati, also on the Ohio, and 100 miles northeast of Louisville, contained a strong garrison and could easily summon help from the east and north. The city of Lexington, seventy-five miles east of Louisville and the same distance south of Cincinnati, was also an important Federal army post.

With but a thousand sabers at his back and enemies numbering tens of thousands having quick connections by rail and telegraph, Morgan's game with respect to the three large cities was to threaten all and tackle none. Four days after he entered the state he was in Lebanon, only one day's gallop from either Lexington or Louisville. He took possession of the telegraph and intercepted a dispatch from the Federal commander at Louisville to the commander at Lebanon stating that a regiment was on the way by train to reinforce the garrison at Lebanon. Morgan already had the garrison prisoners and promptly sent out a detachment to burn the railroad bridge ahead of the speeding regiment.

Lebanon was filled with army stores, and after cutting off the approaching foe Morgan leisurely burned all that he didn't have use for, buildings, wagons and ammunition, besides many thousand stand of arms. In the stock he found 2,000 Yankee sabers and told his troopers to help themselves, for new blades were very scarce in the Confederacy. There was a big heap to pick from, and every one of the band took what suited his fancy and rode away from Lebanon with an extra sword strapped to his saddlebow.

From Lebanon the raiders rode toward Lexington, at the same time threatening Frankfort, an important point on the road to Louisville. Every day the cavalcade picked up a straggling Federal officer or small detachment of Kentucky Home guards. The prisoners were paroled at the convenient time and set free with some story as to Morgan's movements which would deceive the enemy.

At Harrodsburg the raiders had a hearty reception by the citizens. The entire populace turned out to welcome the Kentucky braves. Galloping north from Harrodsburg, Morgan halted at Lawrenceburg, twenty miles from Frankfort, and waited until his spies brought word of the situation in Frankfort. There were 2,000 or 3,000 Yankees there, and the raiders turned east toward Lexington. In their pathway lay the bridgeless Kentucky river. The only ferryboat in the vicinity had been sunk by the Home guard, but the raiders fished it out of the water and crossed over in the night without being discovered.

Dashing on to Versailles, fifteen miles from Lexington, the raiders captured 300 army horses belonging to the enemy. At the village of Midway Operator Ellsworth read the passing dispatches and learned that a train with two regiments of Federals was about due at that point. Morgan quickly tore up the track and posted his men and guns to give the train a reception, but was cheated of his prey by an alarm sent into the lines which turned the train back to Frankfort. A dispatch to Midway from Lexington asking if the road was safe to send a trainload of troops forward was read by Ellsworth, who at Morgan's dictation answered, "No sign of Morgan here." The train got the alarm and didn't venture to Midway.

Numerous dispatches between the Federal General Ward at Lexington and General Finkel at Frankfort about Morgan passed into Ellsworth's ear and then into Morgan's. He knew just where his enemies were and, being headed for Georgetown, near Lexington, had Ellsworth forward another misleading telegram. This informed the Federals that Morgan had passed Midway and gone toward Frankfort.

Georgetown gave the raiders another enthusiastic welcome, and they tarried two days. But the time was not passed in rollicking. Morgan picked up and drilled new recruits for his battalions and also destroyed the track and stone bridges between Frankfort and Lexington and northward from Lexington toward Cincinnati. Before setting out he sent bogus dispatches through Ellsworth to the Federals at Lexington saying that Morgan's pickets were skirmishing near Frankfort. Two companies of the raiders then galloped on to the outskirts of Lexington in an opposite direction and opened fire, while Morgan and the main body of troopers dashed northward and struck Cincinnati, thirty miles above Lexington, on the road to Cincinnati. Cincinnati was well garrisoned by cavalry, infantry and artillery. Sending his Texas squadron around to the right and another regiment to the enemy's rear, Morgan advanced the Kentuckians boldly up the main street. The Federal soldiers resisted at all points, and it took an hour and a half of desperate fighting to carry the town. Colonel Landrum and his officers and men of the Eighteenth Kentucky Home guard stood out against heavy odds. Landrum defended himself with his pistol and shot down an aid of Morgan who tried to capture him. The garrison at Cincinnati lost about fifty killed and wounded and believed that Morgan suffered more than that, but some of his dead were thrown into the river. Cincinnati was the farthest point north touched by Morgan. He turned back from there toward Lexington again. The military authorities at Louisville and Cincinnati were wiring in all directions for aid to cut off the raiders, every general lamenting that his orders were not carried out and Morgan still loose in Kentucky. The raiders had been at their work a week without meeting opposition worthy the name. But Morgan had had enough, and the next thing in the bold game was to get out of Kentucky.

To ride out of Kentucky after raiding a week in the heart of it ought to have been made impossible for Morgan, but it was not. He set his face toward the very track by which he had entered the state and reached it without a battle. Leaving Cincinnati, he rode back on the Lexington road to Paris, which surrendered without a struggle. Halting there for the night, he struck southward, leaving Lexington to the west of his route, and rode into Richmond on the 20th of July. He was then far to the east of the region of his most daring exploits, and the Federals were looking for him everywhere excepting the point where he really was. Through Ellsworth, however, he learned from the wires that large columns of cavalry were following on his trail and rode on to Crab Orchard.

At Crab Orchard Ellsworth once more manipulated the wires. He learned the exact location of every body of Federal troops and wound up the exploit by countermanding in the name of General Boyle, at Louisville, every order for the pursuit of Morgan that had been given. One message passed over the line warning the operators that George Ellsworth, the clever "rebel," was on the line in Kentucky.

The town of Somerset, ten miles north of the Cumberland, was the last halt of the raiders. The place had been used as a storehouse for the Federal army, but no garrison was on hand to defend it. After taking new outfits of blankets, shoes and other clothing the raiders set fire to the buildings and watched them burn. Morgan was happy. He had ridden 1,000 miles through the Blue Grass State and picked up several hundred crack soldiers to fill his ranks. The enemy had been whipped at every encounter, his generals outwitted and the hopes of the southern sympathizers in Kentucky fired anew. He counted his own loss in men less than 100, and had captured and paroled more Federal than he mustered troopers in his own column.

The serious work of the campaign being over, Morgan couldn't leave the state without a characteristic goodby to some of his old associates who had stuck to the northern flag. One of these was the noted editor, George D. Prentice, of Louisville. To him Ellsworth wired the following dispatch, dated Somerset, July 22, 1862:

Good morning, George D. I am quietly watching the complete destruction of Uncle Sam's property in this little burg. I exceedingly regret that it is the last that comes under my supervision on this route. I expect in a short time to pay you a visit and wish to know if you will be at home. All well in Dixie. J. H. MORGAN.

Another dispatch, in a more boasting vein, was sent to the Hon. George Dunlap, a Kentucky congressman, at Washington. Then the raiders rode across the border to Tennessee, went into camp and coolly waited for the invading armies of Kirby Smith and Bragg to come along on their northward march.

scribe the best, and as I know and have proven that there is nothing in Materia Medica which equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female disorders, I unhesitatingly prescribe it, and have never yet been sorry. I know of nothing better for ovarian troubles and for failing of the womb or ulcerations; it absolutely restores the affected parts to their normal condition quicker and better than anything else. I have known it to cure barrenness in women, who to-day are happy mothers of children, and while the medical profession looks down upon 'patents,' I have learned, instead, to look up to the healing power, by whatever name it be known. If my fellow physicians dared tell the truth, hundreds of them would voice my sentiments."—Dr. WADSWORTH, Lansing, Mich.

CATARRH

The treatment of Catarrh with antiseptic and astringent washes, lotions, salves, medicated tobacco and cigarettes or any external or local application, is just as senseless as would be kindling a fire on top of the pot to make it boil. True, these give temporary relief, but the cavities and passages of the head and the bronchial tubes soon fill up again with mucus.

Taking cold is the first step towards Catarrh, for it checks perspiration, and the poisonous acids and vapors which should pass off through the skin, are thrown back upon the mucous membrane or inner skin, producing inflammation and excessive flow of mucus, much of which is absorbed into the blood, and through the circulation reaches every part of the system, involving the Stomach, Kidneys and other parts of the body. When the disease assumes the dry form, the breath becomes exceedingly foul, blinding headaches are frequent, the eyes red, hearing affected and a constant ringing in the ears. No remedy that does not reach the polluted blood can cure Catarrh. S. S. S. expels from the circulation all offensive matter, and when rich, pure blood is again coursing through the body the mucous membranes become healthy and the skin active, all the disagreeable, painful symptoms disappear, and a permanent, thorough cure is effected.

S. S. S. being a strictly vegetable blood purifier does not derange the Stomach and digestion, but the appetite and general health rapidly improve under its tonic effects. Write us about your case and get the best medical advice free. Book on blood and skin diseases sent on application.

By Their Means 100,000 Cans of Corn Can Be Cut from the Cob Every Day.

P. Hohenadel has just installed in his canning factory at Spring Brook, four of Sprague's improved corn cutting machines, that cut the corn from the cob. Mr. Hohenadel expects to handle an immense amount of corn this year and for this reason the new machines were installed.

CRUEL, INHUMAN HORSE TREATMENT

YOUNG ANIMAL IS BEATEN

Citizens Protest, But the Three Drunken Boys Keep On Driving.

Spring Brook was up in arms on Monday night in an effort to prevent an evident case of cruelty to animals. Three young men were the guilty parties in the case and the animal was a horse which had but recently been broken in. An effort was made to get one of the officers of the law by telephone but before the attempt was successful the horse and the persons who had been causing the commotion were gone.

The horse was a young animal that had been driven but a few times and the three occupants were believed to be under the influence of liquor. For some reason they came to a dead stop on Eastern avenue, a short distance from McKee boulevard. The occupants of the rig immediately began a storm of abuse at the horse, accompanying their remarks by blows of the whip. A crowd soon collected and their indignation at the treatment which the horse was receiving was freely expressed.

After a few moments of this punishment on the part of the young brutes in the carriage one of the spectators tried to telephone for the police but failed to get them. The horse in the meantime had decided to yield to the arguments which its drivers employed and moved on. There was talk on the part of some of those who witnessed the affair, of bringing it before the humane society, but at the last report nothing in that direction had been done.

WIFE OBJECTS TO HUSBANDS ARREST

Mr. and Mrs. James Condon Make Things Lively For Chief Hogan For a Minute.

Chief of Police Hogan this morning arrested James Condon, who conducts a saloon on Pleasant street for being drunk and disorderly. Condon has been drunk for several days and was making a public nuisance of himself. When the chief arrested him and started him for the lock-up Condon put up a fight and his wife also took a hand in the fracas to prevent the chief from taking him to the lock-up. For a time the chief had his hands full looking after the woman and fighting Condon. He finally found there was but one way to settle the matter and soon had Condon, so he loaded him into a passing stone wagon and took him to the lock-up without further trouble. Condon makes a great deal of trouble for the police. He runs a saloon and keeps full of whiskey most of the time and is a general nuisance. His license should be revoked by the council and the saloon closed as he is not a fit person to run such a place. He will be given a chance to explain matters to Judge Fifield tomorrow morning.

ARTHUR STOLLER HAS NARROW CALL

NEWSBOY JUST MISSES DEATH

Falls Under Ice Wagon and Only Escapes Serious Accident

Arthur Stoller, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoller had a close call to losing his life this morning and as it is he will be laid up for some time with a bad leg. Young Stoller was delivering papers and was going up Garfield avenue pushing a bicycle ahead of him. When he reached the top of the hill near Stanley R. Smith's residence, he started to mount his bike. Just as he had mounted and before he fairly got started, one of the City Ice Co's. wagons in charge of Henry C. Tall came out of the driveway from Mr. Smith's residence.

Fell Under Wagon Stoller was close to the wagon when it was passing him directly in this time his wheel slipped out from under him throwing him directly in front of the rear wheel. When he first struck the ground his neck was squarely in front of the wheel, but he reached up with his hands and caught hold of the spokes, drawing his head out of danger but bringing one of his legs under the wheel, which passed over it lengthways just above and below the knee.

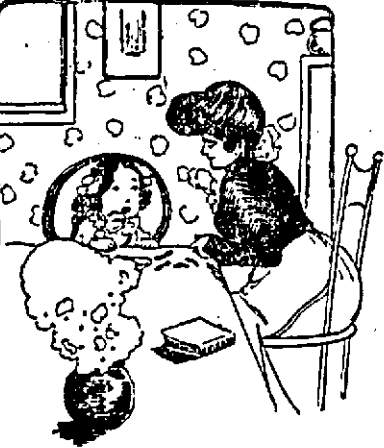

Stops Wagon As soon as Mr. Tall saw the boy fall he stopped the team and tried to keep the wagon from going over him but could not. Stoller was picked up and carried into Mr. Smith's residence and Dr. Sutherland called to attend him. He found that no bones were broken, but that they were badly bruised both above and below the knee and would keep him laid up for some time. It is a wonder the bones were not crushed flat as the heavy wagon was over half full of ice and the road bed was quite hard.

Corrected.
